NUMBER 42

Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS.—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what I get through the mail. Arthur Brisbane and I have been having a good natured kidding through the papers about Russia. Arthur kinder believes that Russia should be recognized, and me I don't know whether they should or not. Lora, that's a Diplomat business not mine. I am not getting Diplomatic wages, I am only getting acting wages.

But that's got nothing to do with it, what I am getting at is the interesting letters, this fellow Brisbane writes, I am going to show you one he wrote me that I just got.

My Dear Rogers: Now that I have established your credit as a multimillionaire, and that you have destroyed mine by making me out in the public prints as destitute, which by the way I regret to say is an extremely accurate description, let us talk seriously about Russia. This country including its brightest intellects, even your own, fail to appreciate the importance of what is going on in Russia.

You know that when Louis the sixteenth came back from shooting at Fontenelleau on a certain 14th of July, he wrote in his diary, "Rein," meaning in the French language, "Nothing." He hadn't shot anything, and he simply wrote down that nothing had happened. But that was the 14th of July on which the Bastille was destroyed, and later as a consequence of that "Rein" day, they just casually chopped off his head.

The King of Persia asked, "Where is Greece?" and said to his royal remembrancer, "Remind me sometime to go down and destroy that little country." His descendants learned about Greece when Alexander came from Macedonia with 30,000 men and sent him flying to his death, went through his line of war elephants and took his country.

All of which leads up to the fact that Will Rogers should study and analyze, and understand Russia, not dispose of it with a wave of a hand, like some fool on Wall Street. Butcher who buys Kerosene Bonds and belly-aches because they are not paid. We didn't pay the bonds issued by the South.

I have no doubt that the Russian experiment will fail eventually, being based on pretense of usefulness and brotherhood, which have no existence among human beings. But its experiments in industry, in world competition, and efficiency may cost some of the old Capitalist civilizations dear, if they ignore it. Alexander Empire fell, dwindling down to the Czar and Mark Anthony foolishness, but not until he had put an end forever to the old Persia. So you ought to warn your readers to not undertake Russia. Many years ago when you was a little boy (Thanks for that kind compliment Arthur), I told Klav, Erlanger, Frohman and Brady that someday Movies would sweep the country and be in every town. They thought I was crazy. Well look and see.

Now you take old Cato with his "Carthage must be destroyed" and keep saying every day at the end of your "piece" in diamond type, "Watch and beware of Russia." This is talked into my photograph in my automobile on my way in from Long Island to New York, hence the length. Yours sincerely, A. Brisbane.

Now wasn't that a fine letter. You know he is a great fellow. And he is sincere about this Russia thing too. He does know enough about it to know that they are going somewhere, and we better watch out while they are on the way. I think on the other hand that he's kinder been propagandized on em, and he has perhaps got the brighter side, for they were a pretty speedy looking outfit when I visited them in 1926. But all that Cato, and Carthage, and Persia and Greece, and Macedonia, a d Louie the sixteenth, and "Rein" and all that was lost on me. He was getting a long way from Russia telling about all those old Birds. But the Russia car came to anything. And I guess he is right, anyhow I haven't got time to look it up, any man as high salaried and busy as he is, that will sit down and take his valuable time to write my stuff for me, I am not going to find any faults with it, so to facts. I will disagree with him every day if he will write my article for me. Anyhow if I ever answer him, I can't talk about those old fellows. I will have to refer him to Senator Grundy, Al Capone, Tom Hefflin, Almie, and just the ones that I know. But anyhow Arthur, I am much obliged to you, and will take care of Russia from now on.

OTTO MAHNCKE DIES SUDDENLY

WAS CARETAKER AT HARTWICK PINES FUNERAL WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Otto Mahncke, caretaker at the Hartwick Memorial Pines Park, passed away suddenly Monday forenoon. Mr. Mahncke was working in the Pines with Arthur Bigham of Maple Forest, an employee there, when he complained of being short of breath and asked Mr. Bigham to drive him to Grayling so that he might see a physician. He did so, and when about halfway to town Mr. Bigham noticed Mr. Mahncke slumped in the seat. Arriving at the doctor's office it was found that he had passed away. Mr. Mahncke had suffered a severe attack of pneumonia a couple of years ago that left him with a weak heart, and since then his health had been none too good.

His passing at this time is very sad as he leaves twin daughters, Misses Mary and Alyce, who are in their teens. Mrs. Mahncke passed away in 1921 and the girls were placed in a boarding school where they remained until three years ago when they came to Grayling to make their home with their father. They entered Grayling High School, Miss Mary graduating with last year's class while Miss Alyce is a Junior. Their father was very fond of them and saw to it that they had every comfort he could afford.

Mr. Mahncke was born in Denmark, November 23rd, 1893. He came to this country when he was 14 years old and located in northern Michigan. For 27 years he worked in the various Salling Hanson Company camps and three years ago was engaged as caretaker of the Hartwick Memorial Pines Park. Mr. Mahncke was an ideal person for the position, having seen so much of camp life and anyone going out there found him to be most courteous and accommodating. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at Michelson Memorial church at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by the Masonic Lodge, under direction of Ancient Landmarks Lodge No. 303 of Saginaw, of which the deceased was a member. The remains were taken to the Forest Lawn cemetery, Saginaw, where they were interred. Surviving the deceased, besides the daughters, is one brother, who lives in Michigan, but who has not been located, and two brothers in Denmark. The young ladies have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

FUNERAL OF MICHAEL J. SHEEHY HELD SATURDAY

Michael John Sheehy, who passed away at his home Thursday morning after an illness of six months duration, was born in Ithaca, New York, May 4, 1880 to Timothy and Rose Ann Sheehy. When he was still a boy his parents moved to Canada. At the age of 13 years he started out to make a living for himself and although he met many obstacles, he braved them as they came and when he had grown to manhood he found himself here in the north country, which was then a dense forest. Lumbering was at its height and he worked as a woodsman for many years, making his home in the various camps until the fall of 1929, when he returned to Canada. He was married to Elizabeth Jane Holm, later also residing at Otsego Lake. In the summer of 1900 the family moved to Grayling from Waters and Mr. Sheehy bought the home on Park street, where the family have since resided. He began working for Salling Hanson Company and, after several years, he was employed as a job as night watchman at one of the R. Hanson & Sons mills at T-Town. After the mills closed down he secured a position with the Du Pont Co., remaining in their employ until they ceased operations. Funeral services were held Saturday morning with a requiem high mass at 9:00 o'clock, celebrated by Rev. J. L. Culligan. Mrs. Frank Tetu, accompanied by Mrs. Marius Hanson rendered the mass hymns and the former sang "Face to face" very nicely. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Surviving besides the widow are two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Wilfred Laurant, Miss Odie, Curry and Reginald at home. With the family during their bereavement from out of town were Mrs. Howard O. Scarlett, Mr. and Mrs. William Eastman and daughter Barbara Mae, Detroit, and Mrs. A. E. Crumlin, daughter Maxine and son Junior of Toledo. Mr. Sheehy was loved by his family, and his death though expected brought them much sadness. This was the first break in the little family circle, but he will always live in their memory as a kind and loving husband and father. He was a man faithful to every duty put before him, honest in all his dealings and never was heard to speak ill of anyone.

FOUR-COUNTY COUNCIL HOLDS ANNUAL CONVENTION

Representatives of churches in the counties Roscommon, Crawford, Osceola and Ogemaw met all day Friday last week in the village of Roscommon for reports, new business and inspirational fellowship. Hagaman, Mrs. C. W. Starr, Rev. H. Nunemaker and Rev. C. E. Peterson. The ladies of the Roscommon Congregational Church furnished a fine dinner which many of the village shared in. The open forum called out many helpful ideas. The following were elected as officers: Pres.—Rev. H. Nunemaker, Comins. Vice-Pres.—Rev. E. Flourey, West Branch. Secy.—Rev. C. E. Peterson, Roscommon. Treas.—Mrs. O. Hagaman, Luzerne. Childrens Supt.—Mrs. Adelia Lince, Luzerne. Young People Supt.—Mrs. V. Nye, Rose City. Adult Div. Supt.—Ferd Stutesman, Comins. Administration—J. Morritt, Luzerne. You can't fool a woman but you can keep her guessing.

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

The week of October 5-11 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week and October 9 as Fire Prevention Day, to be observed by all.

Fire can destroy the happiest home, the busiest shop or the most pleasant community at any time and without warning. Fire affects us all individually and as communities, and should give special thought to prevent, for many years, making his home in the various camps until the fall of 1929, when he returned to Canada.

The National fire loss in 1929 was over $473,000,000, in Michigan $13,913,460.

Statistics show that during 1929, 222 lives were lost through fire.

Fires can be prevented; so this sacrifice of precious lives, limbs and property is needless and a serious reflection on our citizenry. While in effect the problem is national, the remedy can only come through a keen "fire consciousness" in each of us and individual preventive acts.

Municipal governments, especially fire departments, and civic organizations, such as commercial clubs, luncheon clubs, women's clubs, through appropriate programs during the week, can do much to awaken civic pride and consciousness.

Public meetings, parades, slogans, window displays, essay contests, warning placards in public places and on hotel menu cards, fire prevention sermons and general inspection and clean-up campaigns are some activities suggested. Fire prevention talks and programs in schools are very helpful. Every fire department has men on its force who can give fire prevention talks before schools and civic organizations. Insurance men are also available for such talks.

The bulk of the fire loss in every Michigan community is due to common ordinary causes not hard to understand and easily remedied. These rather than special or extraordinary causes, should be made the subject of fire prevention talks.

A more general use of fire resistive building materials, fire stopping to prevent the spread of fire through walls, partitions, and hidden spaces, a safe chimney and heating plant and proper electrical installation, and good, clean housekeeping would prevent most of the fires and would confine others to the places of origin. First-aid extinguishing appliances, such as proper chemical extinguishers, handy water barrels and pails, etc., would put out others with small loss.

A determination on part of each of us to have a safe home, shop, store and factory would solve this fire problem. All must help and all will be benefitted by any saving in fire losses.

To prevent fire is the personal responsibility of everyone. It should be taken seriously. Ordinary carelessness would prevent ninety per cent of the fires.

SCHOOL NOTES

G.H.S. Enrollment

The enrollment has slipped a trifle since last year. The cause for this decline is due to the number of students that have discontinued their school work. We have also added a number of new students to our roll this year, but not enough to cover the loss.

The Seventh grade seems to be the only class with more boys than girls. There are 21 girls to 25 boys; not a bad bunch to start out with. This large class is due to the change in schedule last year, in which two classes were joined.

The Eighth grade ranks fourth on the enrollment list, having 22 girls to only 16 boys. It looks as if the boys will have to dig down if they want to keep up with the overwhelming majority of girls.

Now we turn to the High School. The Freshmen are full of vim and vigor, ready to show Grayling just what they can do to make their class go down in history. Oh yes! The boys are again outnumbered, 23 to 18, and their class ranking third on the roll.

What comes next? None other than the "Blundering Herd" of Sophs, forty-seven strong, the largest class that G.H.S. has ever had or probably ever will have. And as the story goes, the girls outnumber the boys 26 to 21, making a grand total of forty-seven. It looks as if they will have to put the audience on the stage and the class out in the seats on graduation night.

Then comes the smallest class—the Juniors. This small class has a big chance to succeed because, as the old saying goes, "Good things are done up in small packages." There are 9 girls to 7 boys, not bad. It has sixteen members.

Last but not least, we come to the Mighty Seniors. Dignified, as usual, full of pep and spirit, ready to show the world just what a class can do to make this the biggest and best year that G.H.S. has ever, or will ever experience.

The Class of '31 is out to surpass any past records and make new ones that can't be broken for years to come. The Senior class boasts of a record not reached by any other graduating class. We have the immense number of 31 students preparing citizen to remove all fire hazards from any property he owns. The loss of life is largely in the homes and each citizen of Michigan should use the greatest care in making the home safe.

More than fifty per cent of the lives lost in Michigan from fires were caused by gasoline, naphtha or other volatile explosives. Use extreme care in handling such products. I urge citizens to make an effort to reduce the fire hazard; to dispose of accumulated waste material and see that chimneys, wiring, and heating equipment are in good condition.

The Michigan Fire Chief's Association is making splendid effort to reduce the loss of property and life, and I urge all citizens to join together in making

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, OCTOBER 6TH TO OCTOBER 11TH, INCLUSIVE, a notable one in this State. Through united effort this loss of life and property can be greatly reduced.

CRAWFORD COUNTY RESIDENT DIES

James H. Burton, age 79, for the last half century a resident of Crawford county, passed away at the Frank Barber home in the village last Thursday, having been in poor health for the past few months. Mr. Burton was born in Crawford county, Ohio, in February, 1851, the son of James and Eunice Burton. He came to Crawford county some fifty years ago, first taking up a homestead near Pere Cheney and later operating a farm near the Perry Richardson place. For the past nine or ten years he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Barber, assisting with their farm work in Beaver Creek township. He is survived by one brother and two sisters, J. W. Burton of Adrian, Mrs. Kate Lawrence of Sarnia, Ont., and Mrs. Ella Oppen of Newton Falls, Ohio. The funeral was held from the Barber home Sunday, burial taking place beside his wife in the Pere Cheney cemetery. Several relatives were in attendance at the funeral service.—Roscommon Herald-News.

"RISE AND WALK"

Herbert N. Casson sends this timely message to American business men from London, England. Mr. Casson was one of the first efficiency engineers of America, and is now owner and publisher of Efficiency Magazine, printed in five languages, the principal business magazine in Europe. The statement is reprinted from Forbes, August 15th, 1930, by special permission.

"Here is the thought I would like to send out to the business men of America:
"You are depressed. You think you are crippled. You are afraid of the future. You are full of fears. You have half of the gold of the world and half of the machinery and most of the automobiles and all the skyscrapers.

"You have the greatest home market in the world and the largest corporations that the world has ever seen. You are ruled more by ideas and less by tradition than any other people in the world. You usually have done what you thought you could do. How can it be possible that a progressive nation of 120,000,000 people can be wrecked by the speculations of a little handful of fools in Wall Street?

"When a horse balks, the balk is in his head, not in his legs. He balks on when he thinks he will. And when an American business man is depressed, the slump is in his head. There is nothing serious to prevent him from making money if he thinks he will.

"When fear rules the will, nothing can be done, but when a man casts fear out of his mind, the world becomes his oyster. To lose a bit of money is nothing, but to lose hope—to lose nerve and ambition—that is what makes men cripples.
"This silly depression has gone on long enough. Get rid of it. It is inside of you.

"RISE AND WALK."

REAPPORTIONMENT

(Cheboygan Tribune).
It is none too soon to be considering the amendment which will be voted on at the November election by the citizens of Michigan—the amendment fostered and bred in Detroit and which, if it passes, will tear from the agricultural districts almost every shred of authority in state affairs.

Detroit seeks to reappropriate the representatives and senators of Michigan. It seeks, so to appropriate them, that the balance of power shall absolutely rest within the cities. The voice of the out-state shall be quieted, and the desires of the teeming city shall dominate every section, even to the northernmost timberland and copper deposit.

It is proposed by Detroit that the constitution shall instruct the legislature to reapportion the state representatives every ten years according to population and if the legislature does not carry out this constitutional edict, then the secretary of state shall do it.

The question before Michigan is—shall population alone determine representation and power. Because Cheboygan county is not as populous as Detroit, it is less entitled to a voice in the conduct of state affairs.

Certainly the vote of out-state counties must be "NO."

The Tribune herewith produces a copy of the amendment as it will appear on the ballots in the November election:

"A petition to amend sections three and four of article five of the constitution of this state, relative to the number of representatives and senators in the state legislature."

"Sec. 3. The house of representatives shall consist of one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single district, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines; and provided, that in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next reapportionment. When any township or city shall contain a population which entitles it to more than one representative, then such township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled. In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of such county, a description of such representative districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration.

Sec. 4. At the first regular or special session of the legislature following the enumeration of the inhabitants of this state in each United States decennial census, the legislature shall by law in accordance with the provisions of this constitution, reappropriate the representatives and senators among the counties and districts, according to the number of inhabitants, using as the basis, therefore, said preceding enumeration; provided, however, that if the figures as to the population of this state by counties according to said enumeration are not available before or during such session, then the legislature shall carry out the provisions of this section at the first regular or special session following the time when such figures are available. IF, FOR ANY REASON THE LEGISLATURE SHALL NOT COMPLY WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION, THEN THE SECRETARY OF THE STATE SHALL FORTHWITH SO REAPPORTION THE REPRESENTATIVES AND SENATORS IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Immediately after the secretary of state has performed the duties hereinbefore required of him, he shall file in his office a certificate showing the territory included in each senatorial district and showing the apportionment of the representatives among the several counties and districts, and such re-arrangement and apportionment shall become effective at the time of filing. Such certificate shall be included in the next succeeding publication of the Public Acts. When senatorial districts have been re-arranged and representatives apportioned anew and any county divided into state representative districts by the board of supervisors, the same shall not be altered until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of this state in the next United States decennial census."

Autumn Leaves

How prodigal is Nature! What sheer waste

Of beauty I see here upon the lawn;

These poor crushed leaves, but yesterday were ornaments,

And now like funeral mounds they greet the dawn!

I scarcely can believe that few short days ago,

They hung in beauty from these naked trees,

And ere they fell, were touched with flaming gold,

At last to be the victim of the breeze!

And yet why downcast be; did not these leaves,

Fulfill their mission, lie down joyously?

Ah! so must I serve, ripen, fade and fall.

And yet is this life's fairest fate for me?

RATHER LATE

While parked in front of the post office Monday morning, the car of a Grosbeck adherent was decorated with a large campaign poster advocating the candidacy of Alex for governor, but we fear it appeared RATHER LATE to that gentleman much good.

HE MAY NEED IT

The chap who, in last week's Sunday paper, advertised his lot in a Detroit cemetery in trade for a used car, must be some optimist. The Space Filler has no desire to appear as a "crepe hanger" yet he has a faint idea, considering the present status of the automobile traffic, that perhaps the optimistic-advertiser may have need of this same lot a little later.

WHEN WEST BRANCH WAS WET
"I have seen more drunken men in one day in West Branch than I have seen in the last ten years under prohibition. And I travel over 3,000 miles a year."—Anson E. Pinney, Itasca, in the Detroit Free Press.

GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD

The writer recently acquired a second hand radio—"a six-tube battery set"—and after considerable labor, much anticipation, and some professional assistance the set was "hooked up" and he learned that several of the "alphabet" batteries were "dead," others "dying," and that the "detector" was not the sleuth it should be, and also that the other tubes belonged to the "rag, tag, and bobtail" class. It was Tuesday evening and pouring down rain, and the expert said it was a poor night for reception, but the writer wanted to see if it wouldn't at least emit a sound—and sure enough it did. Static squeaks and squawks, crackling and scratching sounds mingled with snatches of vocal music and that of jazz orchestras and bands seemingly from every station on the dial. Then after the expert left the writer tuned in once more but the squeaking and squawking seemed worse than at first, till at last once the interference seemed to die away and a wonderful baritone voice boomed out the words, "LOVE"—but who he loved, and how he loved, and why he loved, will remain a secret as far as the owner of this radio is concerned, for after those two words the wonderful voice faded away into oblivion, and he might the writer could not pick up that station again, and interfering noises came back as before.

INSPIRATION OF THRIFTY PARENTS LED S. W. STRAUS TO TAKE UP THRIFT WORK

(By H. R. DANIEL, Secretary American Society for Thrift).
It is perhaps not generally known that the inspiration which led S. W. Straus to devote many years of his life and expend a small fortune in his efforts to spread the gospel of thrift among the American people, sprang from the precepts of thrifty parents. Early in the years of his thrift work he once said: "My father was, in his early days, a poor man but he knew the value of economy and out of a very meager income he saved $500 with which he made a start in business. Fundamentally, the secret of my father's success as he moved into the larger activities of business, was his keen appreciation of thrift. He and my good mother had learned what it meant to live within their means, to spend money carefully, to save wisely. Thus from the days of my earliest youth the value of thrift was instilled within me and now, looking back over the years of early life even up to the period of young manhood and the beginning of my own business career, there comes the consciousness of a debt of gratitude to my father and mother so deep that it can never be repaid. No other inheritance ever could have equaled the lessons in thrift I learned from them. Could a more worthy monument be erected to the memory of my dear parents than the inauguration of a movement through which others might receive the benefit of thrift education?"

In all the activities in which S. W. Straus was engaged there was always this added impulse which came with the memory of these thrifty parents, steadfast in their devotion to a principle which they fully realized meant not only material progress but which contributed to the development of a sturdy character.

While S. W. Straus held to the belief that no man was ever too old to learn the value of thrift, he was particularly impressed with the need of teaching thrift to those of tender years. Looking back over his own life he realized only too well what it meant to gain an understanding of thrift while still in the years of childhood. And so it was that he did everything within his power to encourage the teaching of thrift in our schools and one of the very last articles he wrote on thrift before his pen was laid aside forever was an appeal to the American people to give more heed to this phase of thrift education.

CONVICTED ON NEW "DRUNKEN HUNTER" LAW

The first two convictions in Michigan for the 1930 season under the "drunken hunter" law adopted by the 1929 Legislature were reported to the Lansing office of the Law Enforcement Division of the Conservation Department this week.

The two convicted were Victor Gudafis and Walter Lapinsky, both of Saginaw, and pleaded guilty to "carrying firearms while under the influence of liquor." They were sentenced to pay fine of $10 each and court costs of $15.20 each. A shotgun was confiscated from each.

Act 25 of the Public Acts of 1929 makes it "unlawful for any person under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any exhilarating or stupefying drug to carry, have in possession or under control, or use in any manner or discharge any firearms within this state." The prescribed penalty for infraction is not more than a $100 fine, imprisonment for 90 days or both.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Editor:
Some time last winter our factory representative came up to Grayling, made a demonstration of the famous Lynn Range Oil Burners, and of course sold some. The next step was to appoint a local agent who incidentally got the profit from the sales. But it was his duty to service them from then on for his future sales depended on the satisfaction of both the burners and the service behind it.

Anything that is man made requires service and too much stress can't be put on the subject.

We are sending our installation man to Grayling next week to clean, adjust and fix all Lynn burners FREE gratis. After that time Frank X. Tetu will be our county representative.

In conclusion I wish to thank the people of Grayling for the broad-minded way in which they have accepted this condition.

NASH

Announces

3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so sensationally low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Its low non-productive overhead, its elimination of borrowed capital, and remarkably foresighted manufacturing alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little. The unique example in value-giving thus provided the industry was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing even remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED!

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!
Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of Nash in greater value-giving—the New Six—with the Single Six—it succeeds. The new Six offers a multitude of superiorities—at prices which range from $100 to $140 below the prices of the Single Six.

OLD DESTROYERS TO BE USED FOR TARGETS

According to the Navy Recruiting Station Detroit the de-commissioned destroyers Marcus and Sloat will be used this fall for bombing tests by airplanes. The Stoddard will also be used as a target, but will be equipped with radio control, so that the battleships and airplanes may have a moving target in firing upon her. Use of the two destroyers as stationary targets will result in a considerable saving, as the ordinary wooden targets cost around $18,000 while these vessels would bring $5,000 if sold for junk.

APPROVED TOURIST HOMES GIVEN DISTINCTIVE SIGNS

The accommodation of tourists has developed everywhere into an industry—especially popular with farm families on important highways, and agricultural extension agents have long urged the rural people in their counties to maintain high standards of sanitation and food if they wish to attract the tourist trade, says the United States Department of Agriculture. But the West Virginia extension service has gone even a step further, by offering to supervise "Tourist Homes" of high quality, and give the owner permission to use a distinctive sign that shows what may be expected by the visitors.

Clean, comfortable, well-ventilated rooms, good beds and springs, soft mattresses, clean sheets and light, fluffy blankets are required to meet the standard set of the supervised home as well as good food, such as fried chicken, home-cured ham, pure milk and cream, fresh eggs, home-grown fruits and vegetables, and other products fresh from the farm.

Reasonable rates, uniform among all supervised homes, cordial hospitality, and consideration on the part of the hosts are also insisted upon. Truly, these are all items which the tourist has been led to believe he would find in country places, but which, alas, have frequently not materialized.

In most of the eight homes in different parts of West Virginia already permitted to display the special extension service sign one will find for sale the famous wild-blackberry jam made from local native fruit, and other garden, dairy, and poultry products that help increase the farm household's cash income. Thus, one industry helps another, and the extension service helps both.

FOREST FIRE EXPERIMENTS NEAR COMPLETION

The first year of work at Michigan's forest fire experimental station is nearing completion with valuable weather, dust, chemical and other data compiled the ground divided into small plots and separated by fire lines, and complete maps and information of the 1,700 acre experimental area near Roscommon completed.

No experimental fires were started this year, as had been planned. The serious fire menace through the state necessitated the use of all available fire fighting equipment, and it was desired to make more thorough preliminary experiments before the final stage was reached.

The experiments are being made by the Forest Fire Division of the Department of Conservation and the United States Forest Service. During the past season the most accurate weather data, including temperatures, humidity, wind velocity, etc., was recorded with the aid of instruments which were placed in the experimental area.

One of the important experiments carried on during the past season had to do with the efficiency of the various pieces of fire fighting equipment and machinery used by fighters in the field. Hand and motor pumps, etc., were gauged and their capacities, operating costs and capabilities were recorded.

The station will also seek to find some chemical or other means of maintaining fire lines at a lower cost than that incurred in the frequent harrowing that is now necessary.

The town of Grayling has been extended in its application to pecans until it is now practically without significance. Originally applied to those types of pecans having such thin shells that one could be easily cracked when two were crushed together in one hand, the term during recent years has been made to include all cultivated varieties, many of which have fully as hard shells as the average wild nut.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Oaks are now with Mrs. Deckrow in Maple Forest.

Charles Thomas, a former resident here, has moved from Owosso to Flint.

Mrs. R. P. Forbes returned Sunday from a few days outing down the river.

300 barrels of apples have been shipped from Ward's farm in Maple Forest this fall.

Perry Ostrander and L. C. Meyers are this week attending a meeting of Grange deputies at Saginaw.

Wm. Hunter brought in a sample potato from his farm in Maple Forest, weighing 2 1/2 pounds.

Mrs. Mabel Martin, was quietly married to Samuel LaViolette, of Bay City, Oct. 1. It was a surprise party to her friends in this village.

A young man named Richard Gordon, aged 19 years and 11 months, was instantly killed at Camp 3 on Monday by being run over by a pair of big wheels.

A. E. Newman returned from an extended visit with relatives and friends at Adrian, St. Johns and other places.

Married—At the County Clerk's office, Oct. 5th, Alton Brott and Mary Safred, of Beaver Creek, Justice J. J. Niederer officiating.

Rev. R. H. Cunningham, pastor of the M. P. church, South Side, has been returned by the Conference to Grayling for another year, and began the new year's work last Sunday.

During the month of August, according to the report of the secretary of state, there were 2,735 deaths and 4,302 births in the state.

There have been found evidences of coal existing in Alcona county and some Alpena parties are now on the ground with a drilling apparatus, and they will prospect for the "black diamonds" in that section.

A long warm autumn is the general weather forecast of the local sharps. But it's a good plan to push fall work as if winter was likely to set in most any day. Then you won't get caught napping whatever happens.

Mr. Lewis Parker, of Beaver Creek, sent us a stem of plums last week, which was broken from the tree by its own weight. There were thirty plums on the twig, as close as a fine bunch of grapes, and every plum perfection, and over an inch in diameter.

There seems to be a spasm of crime among a number of small boys in our village. For two months past there has been a number of petty larcenies which are traced to these boys. Five have been arrested, of whom two are awaiting trial in the circuit court and sentence, is suspended for thirty days on the other three. For the sake of the boys who are getting in the wrong path, we hope there will be no more complaints, for if the practice continues, the boys will certainly be sent to the reform school.

The Rev. Mr. Kjolhede of Ashland, Mich., will be here the latter part of this week and will give a lecture at the Danish Lutheran church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Those who heard him at the Conference here last May will surely appreciate an opportunity to hear him again. On Saturday he and Rev. A. C. Kildegaard will leave for Detroit, where the new church, just completed by the Danish Lutherans of that place, will be dedicated on Sunday.

The reception for the new pastor, Rev. E. G. Johnson and his wife, held at the M. E. Church Tuesday evening was fully enjoyed by all present.

From Council proceedings: Moved and supported that the ordinance relative to keeping children at home after certain hours be passed, ordained and ordered published. Motion carried. Moved and supported that the president and clerk procure and place a suitable curfew bell. Motion carried.

The worthlessness of Crawford county farms is proven again on the farm of Alton Brott in Beaver Creek.

"Barren pine stump land," deserted and not thought worth the taxes, so was put into the tax homestead list and entered a few years ago by Mr. Brott, who now has sixty acres under improvement, and his crops of this unfavorable season prove the wisdom of his choice and his willingness to work. His corn will yield over 80 bu. of ears to the acre, and is perfectly ripe and secured. Over 500 bu. of carrots, 1,000 of bagas and turnips from four to eight inches in diameter, and a big crop of potatoes being now dug. A barn full of hay and plenty of grain puts him on easy street. Samples of his products have been brought to this office and are fine.

The President's Speech

$27 a Day for All

Better Than Gold

Germany Does Something

The President's optimistic view of the near future, backed by sound facts and figures, should comfort many doubting Americans who thought the world had come to an end when violent stock gambling produced its usual result.

Particularly important is the fact, usually forgotten, that this nation consumes 90 per cent of all it produces. If tomorrow the people of the United States, consumers and distributors, should resume their normal purchasing, instead of holding back in a vague, foolish fear, our prosperity conditions would immediately become 97 per cent of normal.

Americans now hoarding, they know not why, should remember that the 1930 dollar will do almost twice the buying work of a 1929 dollar. By now, the dollar's 1930 value will not endure.

If Henry Ford's latest prediction becomes reality, this country will consume all it can produce, and more, barring, perhaps, superfluous food products. And if they can be produced as cheaply in proportion as our automobiles are produced, our farms could undersell the world, as our automobile and moving picture factories do.

Mr. Ford predicts a minimum pay for workers of $27 a day by 1930, the five-day week to be universal, giving the $27 a day man leisure to enjoy his earnings, automobile, radio, etc.

To many that seems preposterous—almost criminal. But not long ago there was only one man in the United States that could earn a dollar a day the year round. The increase from one dollar a day for one man only, to six dollars a day, and more, for millions of men, would have seemed as "impossible" as the increase that Mr. Ford suggests from six dollars to twenty-seven.

Discovery of a gold mine containing two to three billion dollars of gold would be welcome news, financing the world more strongly on a gold basis.

Discovery of a mine containing millions of tons of pure copper would be of great value to industry, although it might upset stock prices.

But no mineral discovery could be as welcome or as important as the discovery, just announced, of huge radium deposits at Wilberforce, Ontario.

These deposits are said to be greater than those owned by Belgium in the Congo, hitherto greatest in the world.

Germany proposes to meet the crisis of extreme radicalism on one hand and threat of Fascist leadership on the other by action.

Rigid economy will reduce national expenditures by a billion marks.

It is even suggested that General Von Hindenburg's pay be reduced.

We have no money worries here, with money to loan a drug in the market. We seem to lack the energy that does something, or anything. We are like a poor old lady, dispossessed from her prosperity lodgings, weeping on the sidewalk, not knowing what to do.

The very Hitler reminds you of the saying that if a man doesn't go too far he never goes far enough. He has gone far enough.

He not only threatens to impeach Hindenburg but proposes to conquer Russia, "because Germany needs more territory for expansion."

A large, Bolshevik bear in Moscow will have something to say about that.

George M. Reynolds, head of the big Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company of Chicago, ended his fiftieth year in banking with this sensible and comforting statement:

"Depression don't kill people. We are recovering from this depression faster than we appreciate. There is nothing fundamentally the trouble with this country. In a few months the volume of business will startle the nation by its size."

One thing write down and remember for future reference. This is the time to buy good stocks, if you have money to buy and will not be frightened away from them.

But no time is good for gambling.

Simple-minded red men sold Manhattan Island for $24, not suspecting how that island and land adjoining across the East river would develop. New York city, with more than 7,000,000 population, has real estate assessed at $19,700,000,000 which means that it is worth at least $80,000,000,000.

That is impressive, and interesting. Impressive and worth remembering is the fact that if the Indians had put their $24 out at 6 per cent with compound interest they would have enough money now to buy Manhattan Island several times over.

The difficulty is that you can't make that sort of compound interest investment, whereas you can buy a good piece of real estate, take care of it, and later have it take care of you.

NOVEL GAS MAKING PROCESS

TESTED AT MICHIGAN

Speeding up the coal gas making process is the object of experiments by the Chemical Engineering Department at the University of Michigan.

Instead of packing retorts full of coal and baking slowly, the new method involves powdering the coal and dropping it into empty retorts, the walls of which are heated to a bright red heat. The change from coal to coke takes place in a few seconds.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM EXPEDITIONS SPEND ACTIVE SUMMER

Traditional pictures of museum workers as bent old gray beards poring endlessly over mummies in dusty rooms are quiet out of keeping with the active life of the modern scientist-teacher at the University of Michigan.

From which summer expeditions went out to seek material in Texas, South Africa, England, and Wales, Ohio and Michigan. In addition to the search for new specimens, Dr. E. C. Case, Director of the Museum of Paleontology visited museums in Vienna, Berlin, Stockholm, and Upsala arranging in some cases for exchange of material.

The expedition to Northern Michigan in the St. Ignace, Rogers City and Alpena regions brought back three quarters of a ton of fossils including many fine specimens of coral from the great coral beds or reefs which were laid down in this region in Silurian and Devonian time, several million years ago. Interesting deposits of fossil fishes were also uncovered in a quarry near Rockport, and donated to the University by the Superintendent of the Kelly Lime and Transportation Company. This trip was in charge of Professor John M. Ehlert.

A party investigating the Triassic time beds of Texas enjoyed better than average success in the second largest deposit of reptiles and amphibians discovered. Among other animals was found a very perfect skull of a Phytosaur 36 inches long. This reptile resembled the crocodile of today. Texas seems to have been the American stamping ground for the reptiles and amphibians which ruled the world millions of years ago, according to W. H. Buettner who headed the party. An unusually rich field was located which may be quarried by future expeditions.

Theodore White, student, was assistant to Buettner, and later joined Norman Hartweg, another student, in a second trip to collect specimens of the living snakes and lizards of the region.

Fossil plant material was obtained in Ohio by Dr. Chester A. Arnold, who later studied and collected similar specimens in England and Wales.

South Africa furnished a number of specimens from the Karroo region to a party in charge of H. F. Donner who is also an observer in the Lamont-Hussey Observatory which the University owns at Bloemfontein, South Africa.

Local Happenings

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1930

Just arrived, new fall footwear, at Olson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford G. Chappel are happy over the arrival of a daughter, born Sept. 30th. Her name is Phyllis Ann.

Gerald Poor, accompanied by Brad Jarmin, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Supt. and Mrs. Chas. Poor at Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Peterson and daughter and Mrs. Herbert Parker returned Tuesday after a few days in Ann Arbor, where the latter was consulting a specialist.

Roscommon is to have a skating pond this winter. For the past week the pond at the Robinson bridge on Main street, has been in the process of preparation for the winter sport.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Riley of Petoskey called on classmates and friends here one day last week. Mr. Riley was a member of the class of 1903 and Mrs. Riley (Ethel Hoyt) of 1904 of our high school.

Beginning next Sunday, mass at St. Mary's church will begin a half hour later, at 8:30 o'clock instead of 8:00 o'clock. Also next Sunday there will be adoration of the blessed sacrament all day, closing in the evening. This will take place of the regular forty hour devotion.

A recount of votes in Roscommon county between Miles H. Mead and Raymond Knapp for the office of county clerk resulted in a victory for Knapp. In the primary election Knapp defeated Miles by nine votes. Because of rumored irregularities in the townships of Denton, Lake and Roscommon, Mr. Mead petitioned for a recount, which, instead of cutting down Mr. Knapp's majority he gained five votes, increasing his majority to 14. It is rumored that Mead will run in the general election on slips.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schrieber, Jr., of South Branch township were host and hostess to about sixty men and women of Crawford county Grace last Sunday afternoon. It was a fine day and the men enjoyed the outdoor games in which pitching quarts predominated and some hot battles were pulled off. The ladies busied themselves in the kitchen until meal time.

One of the guests said that there were "Eats to the east of us; eats to the west of us and eats all around us and the men folk charged right into the midst of it. You should have seen the food disappear." All had such a good time that they hoped to be together there again next year.

Louis M. Edwards of Bangor arrived in town Thursday evening to spend the week end with Grayling friends. He was driving a new Plymouth coupe and said that he drove from Bangor, near Kalamazoo, as far as Clare on paved highways and another 20 miles of pavement between Prudenville and Grayling. Mr. Edwards was foreman in the Avalanche office for several years, leaving here during the World War when the call for printers in Detroit exceeded the supply, and where wages were beyond the possibility of weekly newspaper offices. However Lou made a lot of friends in Grayling during his stay here whom he enjoys to visit whenever possible.

The Log Office Says

Interesting bits of news and comment about Northeastern Michigan gathered by the E. M. T. A.

(By Katherine Banta) Ganaser Says It's An Investment. "An investment" is the way A. H. Ganaser, president of the Michigan State Senate, terms any amount subscribed by any Michigan citizen or town to the work of the E.M.T.A. He told a prominent citizen recently that this association is doing a "splendid work" to attract tourists through Detroit, the gateway to Eastern Michigan, through the Bay City to the real playground of Michigan, around Saginaw Bay and Lake Huron Mackinaw and Lake Superior regions. He tells too, how on a motor trip to Detroit the latter rode successfully over the national part of August, his family counted the motor cars of 21 states between Bay City and Detroit, and in the downtown areas of Detroit, the motor cars of 14 states, all in the space of about seven hours.

Auto Club To Move From Log Office
The Valley Automobile Club, which has had office space in the Log Office for several years, is to move this month. It has recently become a part of the Detroit Automobile Club and will have its own offices on Washington St. While we are not equipped or organized to give road information such as the automobile club has given from our office, we shall of course continue to give whatever information we possess that can in any way be of benefit to tourists or to our members. And, as in the past, our services are free, both to members and non-members. There can now, obviously, be no confusion as to the source of advice given in the Log Office for new motorists and trade. It is natural that it will be occupied entirely by departments of the E.M.T.A.

Hunters Making Early Reservations
It would seem that East Michigan where equal, it behooves the author to become an all-year resort, more than of any community as well as each season. Frank G. Martin of The Heights on Houghton Lake, whose most of their opportunities for improved cottages are known to both the fishermen and hunters, reports to us in which they live.

themselves to step to the platform and receive their gold edged diplomas.
To sum it all up, we have 124 girls to 95 boys in the assembly room, making a total of 219 which almost reaches last year's mark of approximately 225.

Doings of the Northlighters
It seems that we are going to have a football team after all. A rather hurriedly passed among our athletic inspired young men, assigned by those who would go out for practice this year to make a team next year. This is a good idea if it is only worked out. Get the old spirit in these boys!

The Junior class held a meeting Monday to raise money for some flowers to express the sympathy of the class for Alice Mahnecke's misfortune.

Ding! Ding! Ding! Ding! Four bells. Back to the Assembly! Hurrah! Mr. Gospihl: The boys are overjoyed and the girls are interested in a speech that gives many things that will help us in life.

Basketball Prospects
In the past years Grayling High School has turned out some very good basketball teams. But this year Coach Cushman has a very difficult problem, that of building a basketball team from men of very little varsity experience.

For the twelve men who formed the first team of last year, a team that was good enough to advance to the finals in the regional tournament at Potosky, of these twelve a squad of five graduated with the class of '30, leaving seven letters in school for the year '30 and '31. But when school opened it was found that three of the boys were not planning on returning to the school though one of them, Daugherty, returned to Roscommon High.

When asked a short time ago what kind of a basketball team G.H.S. would have this year, Mr. Cushman replied, "That since the failure of LaGrow and R. Harrison to return to school it kind of darkens hopes for a winning team, but a lot depended on the B team of last year." If two of them can take the place of R. Harrison and LaGrow, Grayling will have another winner. If not G.H.S. will at least have a fighting team. And from what is known of Mr. Cushman as a coach you can bet that the team he puts on the floor to represent Grayling High School won't be a "Push-over" and don't be surprised if it is another "winner."

We have had no tardy marks this past week. We hope to have a 100% month.

We are using our library every day. We have most of our books catalogued so that we may take them home.

We are going to make covers for our "Weekly Readers" in Art class this week. By February we hope to have a reader we have helped to make. Our Book Brownie tells us that in order to be good citizens we must come to school on time and come to school every day unless we are sick. Try to do our best every day. Try to find out all the interesting things hidden in our books. Make our school a happy place to live in. Help to keep our school clean.

The Tasks of Teaching

It's a job to handle Mary
In her frivolous girlish mood;
As she travels girlhood's pathway,
Sometimes thoughtful, sometimes rude;

Or to tackle frolicking Johnnie
And his foolish notions ban,
But the Nation bids me take him
And to make of him a man.

It's a job to grade the papers
Stucked before me row by row,
As I sit before the fireside
While the embers softly glow;

It's a job to check attendance,
Make reports, and so and so,
But a bigger job is knowing
What the pupils think I know.

It's a job to measure knowledge
In a fair, impartial way;
But if asked to name the youngsters
As I meet them day by day

Of the tasks, I think I'd give
That of living, really living
As the pupils think I live,
—Clarence O. Mead,
in the "Texas Outlook."

Success

In order that a teacher may be sure of success she must know exactly what she is doing every minute. She must not believe that discipline is a gift of the gods that come naturally to some, while others can do nothing about it. Always the busy child is the orderly child. Also the children's respect is gained far more by knowing where all school utensils are, and by having the program move along steadily from the first hour of school than by any amount of lecturing or dispensing of rules and regulations.

This of course means hard work but success comes only by work. A struggle to gain an education, a constant application to your work.

SHELL PROGRAM TO BE BROADCAST ON SATURDAYS, BEGINNING OCTOBER 11

Time of Program Also Changed to 8:30 P. M. Eastern Standard Time

In the opinion of thousands of radio listeners over the country as voiced in their letters to the Shell organization, the only way to start Saturday evening off right, is to tune in on a very snappy program of song hits and dance music such as they have been accustomed to hearing on Monday evenings. So in response to the many requests and in keeping with the Shell policy of furnishing the ultra in entertainment for radio listeners everywhere, the Sign of the Shell program will be broadcast on a new time and a new night beginning Saturday, October 11. The new time will be 8:30 to 9:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, over the NBC Red Network. There will be no Shell program on Monday, October 6. Ray Perkins, "The Old Topper."

Featured
Raymond Lamont Perkins, Bostonian, alumnus of Columbia University, protégé of the Schuberts, lieutenant in the late World War, one time associate of George M. Cohan during which he became famous as a writer of popular songs, will be featured on the Shell program of Saturday, October 11, and will be heard in a series of typical Perkinsque song numbers interspersed with imitable piano monolog numbers and rapid-fire wise cracks for which this Tin Pan Alley star is famed.

Among the song hits which have boosted Perkins to a commanding position on Broadway and elsewhere are: "Table for Two," an early effort which brought Ray the magnificent sum of $7,371; "By-Lo" which brought in considerably more in royalties; "Scandinavia" and "Stand Up and Sing for Your Father." He achieved his best bet for fame, however, when he produced the comparatively recent song hits "Under a Texas Moon" and "Lady Luck." Ray made his first radio appearance in 1928 over WJZ as Judge, Jr., and became widely known to thousands of radio fans, everywhere. Since his first appearance on the Shell program a few months ago, Perkins has become a favorite and continues to grow in popularity with radio listeners all over the country.

Perkins lives at Scarsdale New York, where he has a wife and small son with whom he spends all his spare moments. On the Shell program of Saturday, October 11th, Wendell Hall, radio's pioneer artist and Master of Ceremonies, will be featured in a ukulele specialty. The Red-Headed Music Maker, as of old will dump his $50,000 ukulele and presenting a modern version of his pioneer radio specialty, recalling memories of radio's early days when he, as radio's original traveling troubador, strummed his way into the hearts of his radio audience.

A high spot in this varied program will be the playing of tuneful song numbers and fast stepping dance music by the famous "Kassels in the Air" dance band under the personal direction of Art Kassel, wizard of the baton.

MICHIGAN'S RECORD STATE ROAD SHOW, OCTOBER 28-29-30

What promises to be the largest and most helpful exposition of road building equipment and material ever assembled in Michigan will take place at Michigan State College, October 28-29-30, under the auspices of the Michigan Association of Road Commissioners and Engineers and in cooperation with the officials of Michigan State College.

This annual Road Show is a non-profit enterprise sponsored by the association for educational purposes to road commissioners, engineers, contractor and township, city, county and state officials.

Each year new inventions in equipment are introduced for the purpose of more economical and more efficient construction and maintenance and it is the object of this association to give an exposition each year in order that state, county and city officials, contractors and road building officials may have the opportunity to study improved equipment, essential to the development of Michigan's state and county highway system.

H. J. McKinley, secretary of the Kent County Road Commission who has been manager of the state road shows for several years, announces that this year's show will be the biggest and most educational of all previous expositions.

The main show will be held in the auditorium of the big demonstration building on the college grounds where the larger equipment will be displayed. In the big ball room there will be displayed smaller equipment. Provision has also been made for larger units to be exhibited on the grounds surrounding the building. The demand for display spaces is heavier than the supply.

A special activity has been inaugurated to interest township officials, as greater improvement of township roads is becoming rapidly necessary owing to the growing volume of tourist traffic, and for this reason township officials will find the Road Show of special educational value.

Governor Green, State Highway Commissioner Dillman, Attorney General Brucker, member of the Road Committee of the State Administrative Board, Secretary of State John S. Haggerty, also a member of that board will attend the show on Wednesday, October 29, together with other members of the State Administrative Board.

The largest manufacturers of road building equipment and materials in the country will have displays at this

CAN'T STAND FAILURE—CAN'T STAND SUCCESS

Men limit their progress in two ways.

First, there is the man who can't stand disappointment without acknowledging his inferiority, perhaps unconsciously. When things go wrong he cracks, and looks for a way out.

Second, there is the man who, if fortune smiles upon him, gets a swollen head and floats around in space like a balloon.

One can't stand failure; the other can't stand success.

Both of these limiting qualities will usually be found in the same individual, because the man who inflates easily generally deflates with equal promptness.

The first-class man knows himself. This knowledge gives him the courage to hold his head up, even under adversity, and when success opens before him he keeps his head, challenged by the conviction that he has not yet done his best work.

KONJOLA ENDED 17 YEAR SIEGE OF RHEUMATISM

Lady Thought She Was Hopeless Invalid Before Master Medicine Gave New Health

MRS. ALMIRA ATTENBERGER
"I suffered from rheumatism for 17 years," said Mrs. Almira Attenberger, Route No. 4, Birmingham, Michigan. "The pains in my limbs were almost unbearable. My right limb was almost paralyzed and it became impossible for me to walk. My liver, also, was in bad condition. In fact, I had been bothered since I was young. I had frequent dizzy spells and was unable to stoop, which hindered me greatly in my housework. Konjola gave me the first relief I have experienced in years. In a few weeks' time my rheumatism was entirely banished. I have no more dizzy spells or specks before my eyes, because my kidneys are now in a fine condition. Konjola gave me this wonderful health."

Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended. Konjola is both a medicine and a tonic, rich in up-building powers. Konjola is sold in Grayling, Michigan at the Mac & Gidley drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.
